About US

"Focusing on the Production Technology of Carbon Fiber Vacuum Autoclave Process"

We are a new type of enterprise in Molding carbon fiber industry.

Since 2017 we have been working on the field of carbon fiber composites , and is independent research and development, manufacturing and sales. After two years of operation, we have maintained good cooperation with many automobile refitting, automobile accessories and electronic commerce companies. After years of technical accumulation, we have mastered the forming and manufacturing process of carbon fiber composite materials in vacuum autoclave process , which can effectively for your company according to its product characteristics, targeted R & D and production, processing customization, as well as to provide mass production.

Carbon fiber (CF) is a new kind of high strength and high modulus fiber material with more than 95% carbon content. Carbon fiber "outer soft inside rigid", the weight is lighter than metal aluminium, but the strength is 10 times higher than steel , and has the characteristics of corrosion resistance and high modulus. It is an important material in defense, military and civilian aspects. It not only has the inherent characteristics of carbon materials, but also has the softness and processability of textile fibers . It is a new material to replace steel

<MonkeyKing>-Carbon Fiber Master

Focus on the development and design of real carbon fiber inside and outside decorations for medium and high end car models. The products are made of Japanese toray 3K carbon fiber cloth materials , with close and neat cloth patterns, bright colors, and abandonment of traditional molding technology. Using advanced autoclave process technology, carbon fibers are formed in high temperature hot-pressing and vacuum compression, so that the details of the products can be treated more delicately and perfectly.

• Private Customized Services

We can provide customized services for customers. According to customers' requirements, make design and arrange production .

• Development Concept

Focus on quality, leading technology, service supreme

• Future Directions

Carbon fibre composites will certainly involve various fields in the future. Our company is not limited to the production of carbon fibre products for automobiles. On this road of growth, we are making continuous efforts. In order to meet the development trend of science and technology, we will go to deeper research and development, involved in the production and manufacture of UAV wings and chassis. Develop the advantages of our company in many ways, and contribute our strength to the society!
